KELLY HIGH SCHOOL
KELLY, KANSAS

VOLUME XVII - MAY, 1965

oreword

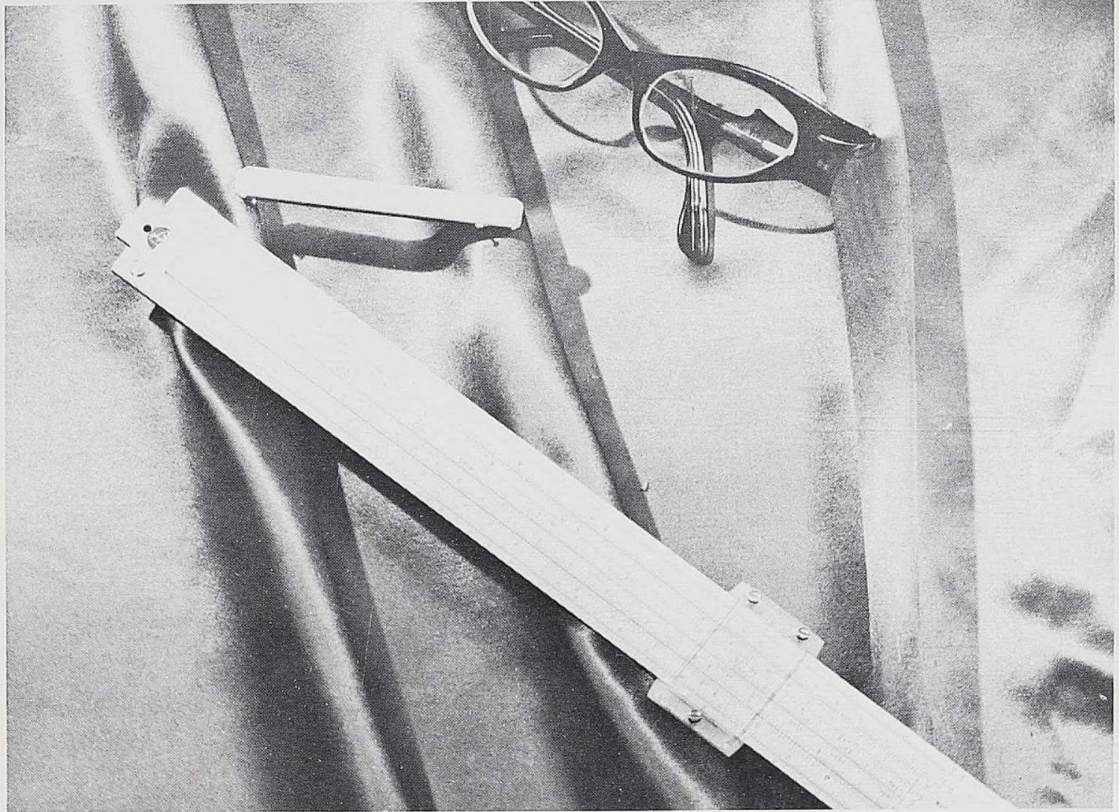

Courage is the personal password of the class of '65--courage to amend past mistakes, courage to face daily problems, and courage to lift the veil of the future. The world is changing and will continue to change but we are ready to grapple with the unknown, the unexpected. In the spirit of courage, we will use nothing as a shield against the world in which we live--neither our families nor our potential professions. We are prepared to move bravely into the future.

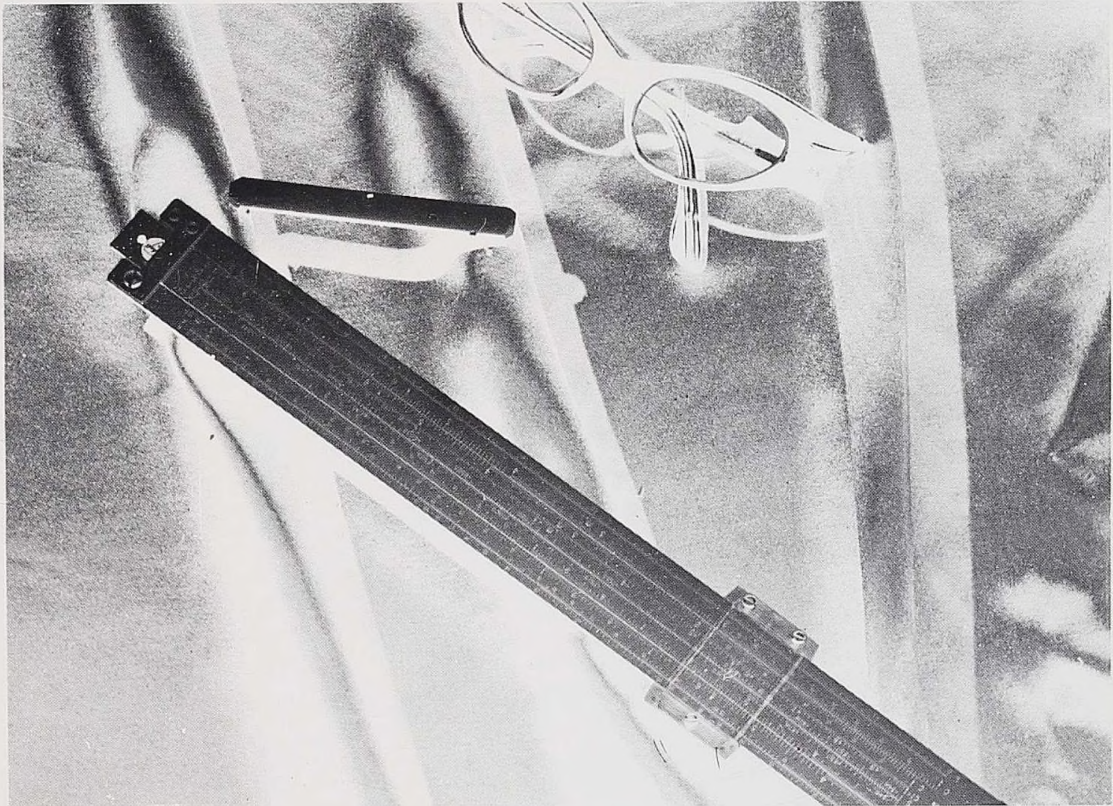

e d i c a t i o n

n order to show its deep gratitude the senior class dedicates the 1965 edition of the Hi-Lites to Sister Dolorita. Sister Dolorita has served faithfully as principal of Kelly high school for the past four years. As seniors we feel very fortunate because, during our four years in high school, Sister has been here to help and inspire us. She has devotedly performed her duties and is respected by everyone who knows her. It is to Sister Dolorita that we owe many happy memories of our high school days.

SCHOOL BOARD

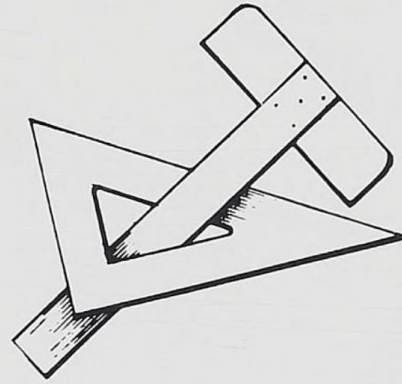

Callistus Kramer, Director; Virgil Altenhofen, Clerk; and Robert Vondenkamp, Treasurer direct school affairs during the 1964-1965 school year.

FAVORITES

Planning and preparing meals for both grade and high school students keeps Mrs. Al Haverkamp and Mrs. Lawrence Levert busy every day.

A friendly handshake initiates the fifth year of driving for Mr. Virgil Altenhofen and the third year for Mr. Albert Wessel. Their jovial faces greet us each morning as we climb the steps of the school bus.

Jane listens, while her father, Mr. Francis Stallbaumer, our loyal custodian, explains to Joe Enneking, his assistant, that it is really easy to ride the lawn mower.

James Heinen, Linus Enneking, and Gerald Rottinghaus, class officers, talk over plans for their senior year.

Meanwhile ...

at the School

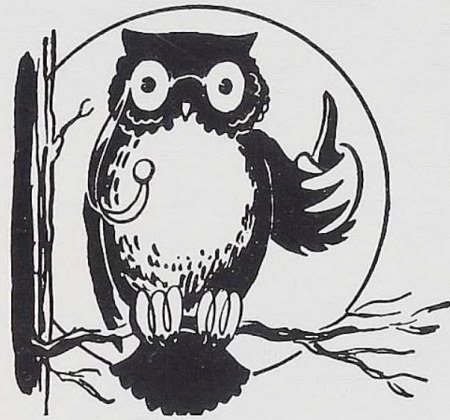

For a change of pace Gerald Rottinghaus, Linus Enneking, Kenneth Hermes, and James Heinen try studying outdoors.

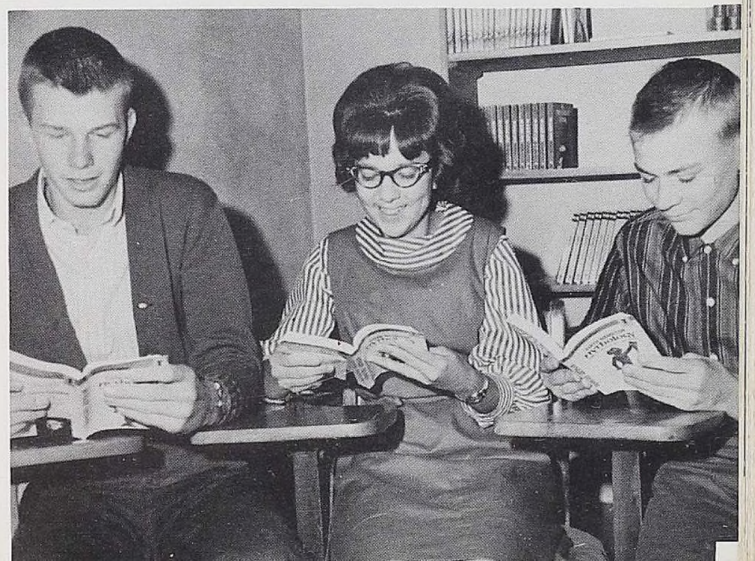

Taking advantage of the study hall are Karen Wessel, Connie Huerter, Connie Haverkamp, Mary Jo Vondenkamp, and Robert Rettele.

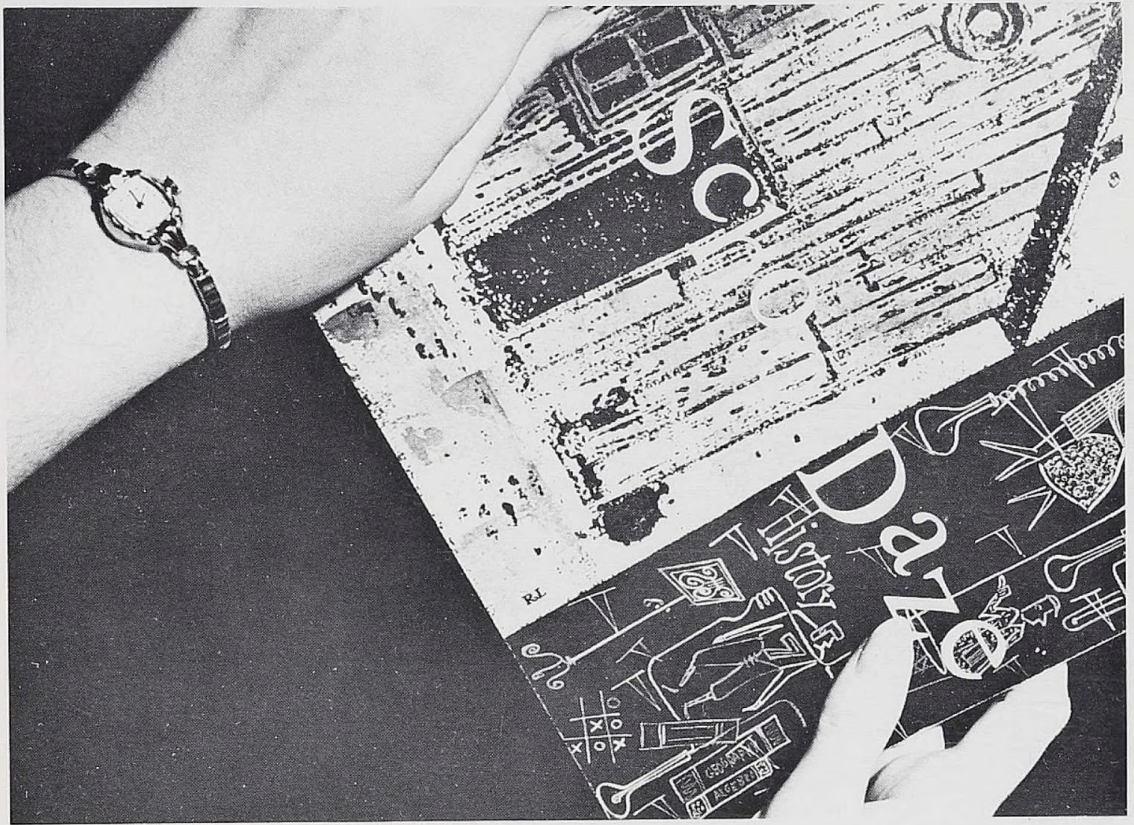

Any time is study time for John Kuhlman and Richard Heinen.

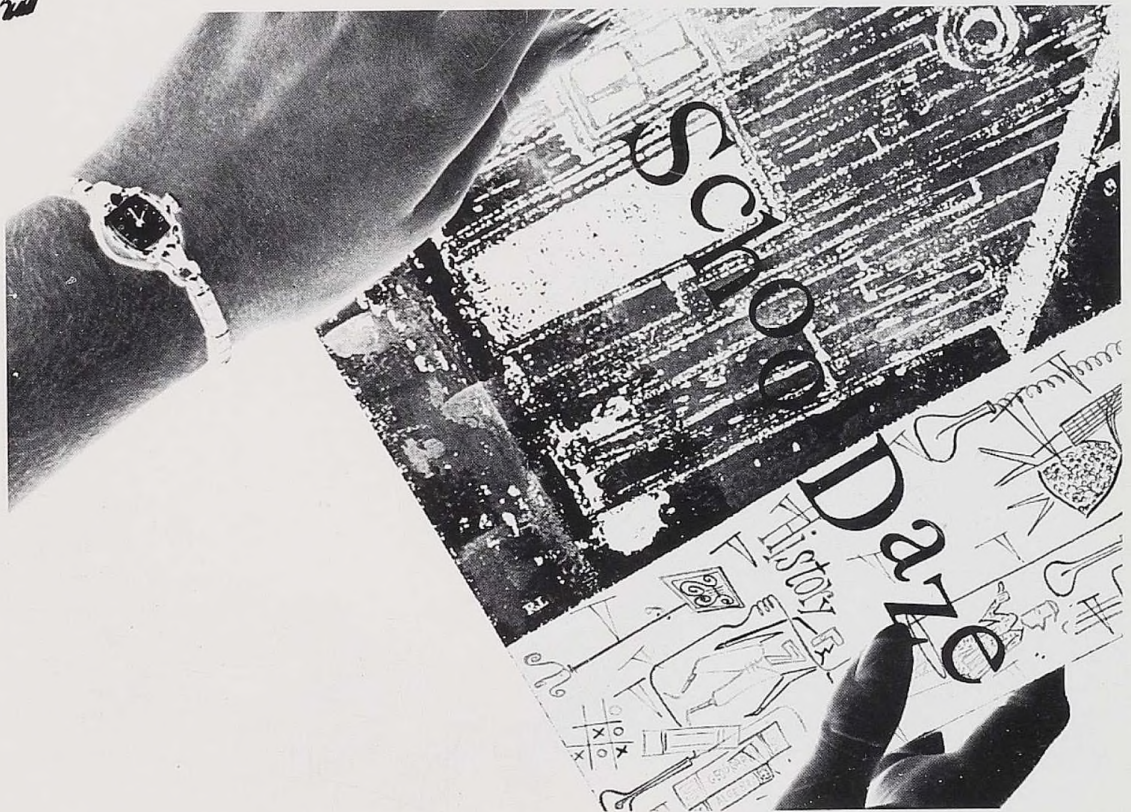

Freshmen, Bernard Ronnebaum, Arminda Bowhay, and David Niehues, learn good study habits from upperclassmen.

Directing an enthusiastic look toward the junior activities agenda for the 1964-1965 school year are: Alice Hunninghake, president; Mariana Kohake, vice president; James Huerter, secretary-treasurer.

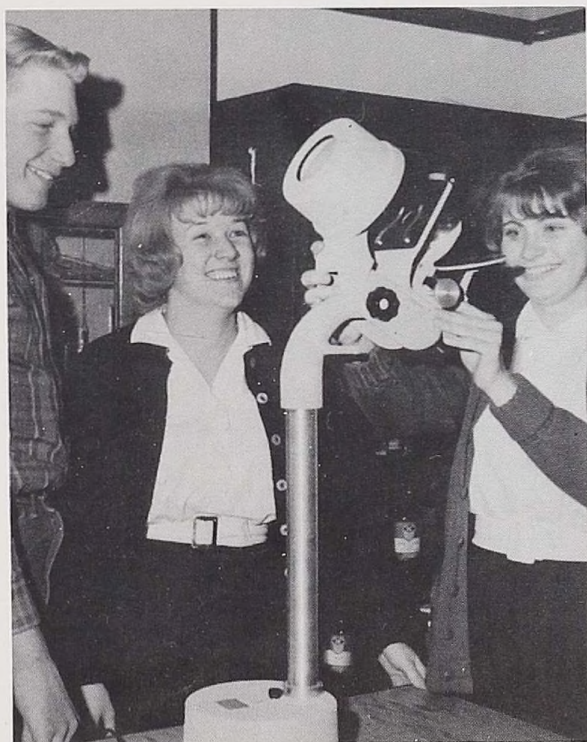

Seniors To Be At Work

Above: Keeping up to date on current events, Leonard Holthaus, Rose Ann Schultejans, Patricia Niehues, Carol Ann Rottinghaus, and Carolyn Wessel prepare to give their views of world affairs in a panel discussion.

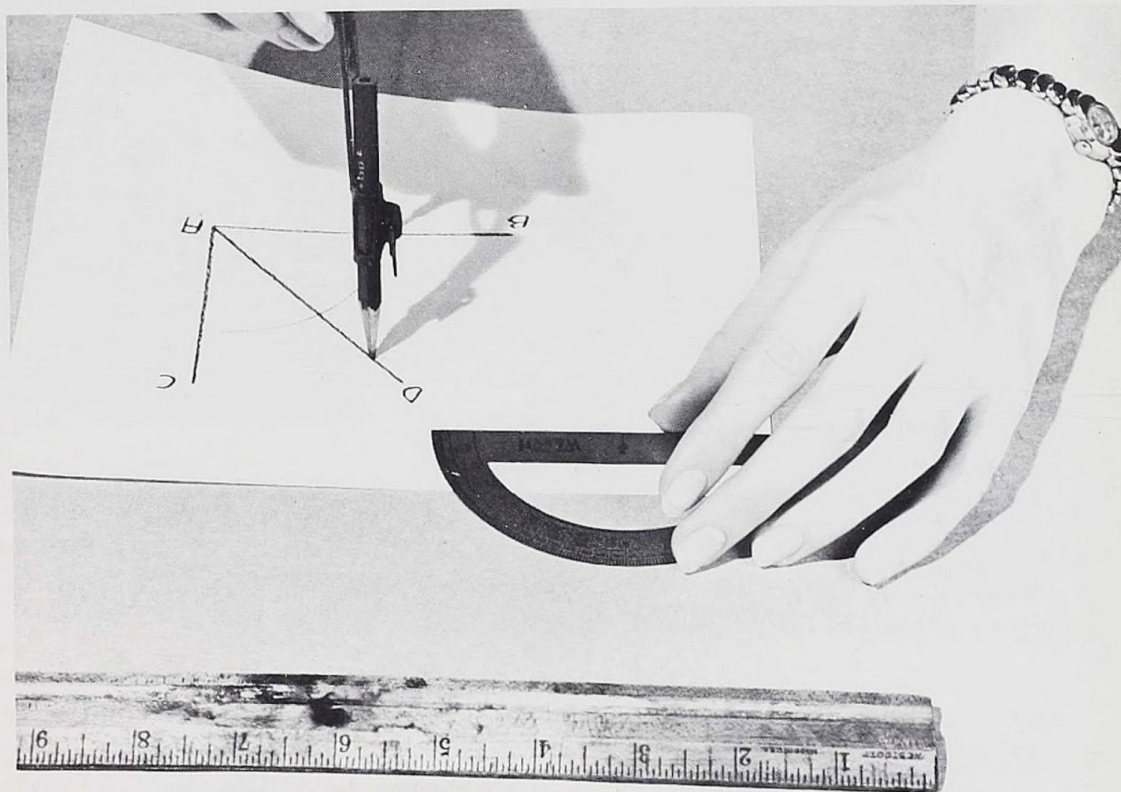

Upper right: Alice Hunninghake and Betty Bowhay demonstrate they have mastered the art of reading labels on bottles of chemicals.

Right: Joseph Hutfles and James Huerter assisted by Mr. Dooley assemble a miniature table for shop class.

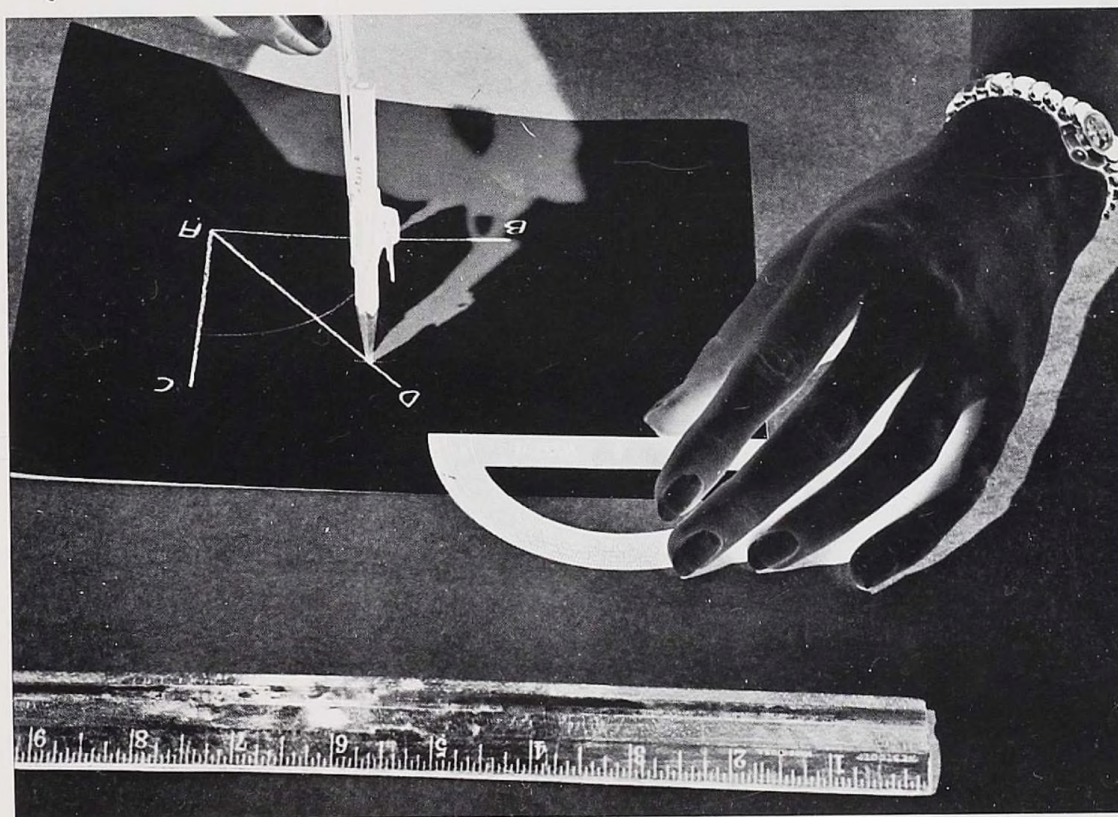

Lower right: Increasing their speed by daily practice, Mariana Kohake, Joella Steinlage, and Gloria Jean Huerter keep their fingers moving over the keys.

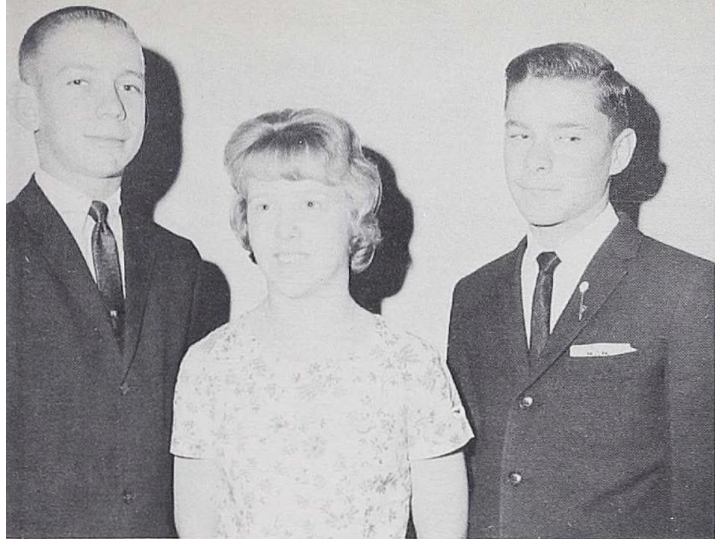

Mary Jane Niehues sets the microprojector while Wayne Niehues and Lucy Enneking anxiously await their turn.

Sophomore Activities

Glancing through their latest paperback book, Kon-Tiki, Rose Mary Wessel, Carol Haverkamp, Jane Stallbaumer, and Betty Huerter prepare to study.

Roger Hermesch (extreme right) invites Tom Korte, Joseph Enneking, and Eugene Heinen to feel that smooth finish.

Gerald Schultejans points out his favorite geographical spot for David Niehues, Bonita Niehues, and Marlene Holthaus.

Right: The boys tune up before singing.

Lower left: Mr. Dooley, instructor, with Eugene Heinen, Roger Hermesch, Joseph Enneking, Thomas Korte examine the mechanism of the drivers' education car.

Lower right: John Kuhlman and James Heinen converse backstage between acts.

During an informal practice period, Sister Dolorita, principal, directs singers Bonita Niehues, Shirley Glissman, Arminda Bowhay, Rose Ann Schultejans, and Gloria Huerter.

Marilyn Kramer and Rosemary Wessel wait expectantly for the ball to come whizzing over home plate.

Activities

ANNUAL, NEWSPAPER STAFFS

Above: "If you're ever up a tree call on me," Linus Enneking and John Heinen, photographers, seem to say to Mary Jo Vondemkamp, Hi-Lites editor, and Connie Haverkamp, Spokesman editor. Harried editors choose a tree near the school to get away from it all.

Center right: That teamwork is needed in all phases of production is demonstrated in this picture by Connie Huerter, Kenneth Hermesch and John Kuhlman.

Above: Mary Jane Niehues and Alice Hunninghake are happy with the results of the finished Spokesman.

Upper right: Explaining an experiment to Mary Jo Vondenkamp and Gerald Rottinghaus in the chemistry class is Sister Mary Charles.

Center right: In shop II, Linus Enneking and Robert Rettele are getting acquainted with the tools they will use daily.

Lower right: Kenneth Hermes, Jim Heinen, Karen Wessel, and Richard Heinen prepare to listen to the Shakespearian drama, Macbeth.

Below: While junior girls listen to a classmate's answer during the U.N. Day assembly, Mr. Donald O'Connor, social science instructor, selects the next question.

ACTIVITIES

Posing for the cameraman are the four students participating in the duet acting division of the speech contest on March 20. Joseph and Lucy Enneking work on a cut from "The Lark" by Jean Anouilh while James Heinen and Connie Haverkamp practice "Life With Father" by Clarence Day.

Sister Innocentia, librarian, helps Mary Jo Vondenkamp check out the books she needs for classwork.

Upper left: Checking over their information on foreign affairs in preparation for extempore speaking are Alice Hunninghake and Charles Hermes. Jan. 23 Charles Hermes won first place in the district Co-Op speech contest and second place in the state contest on Feb. 8. Alice Hunninghake won second place honors in the district contest, while Lucy Enneking (above) took third place.

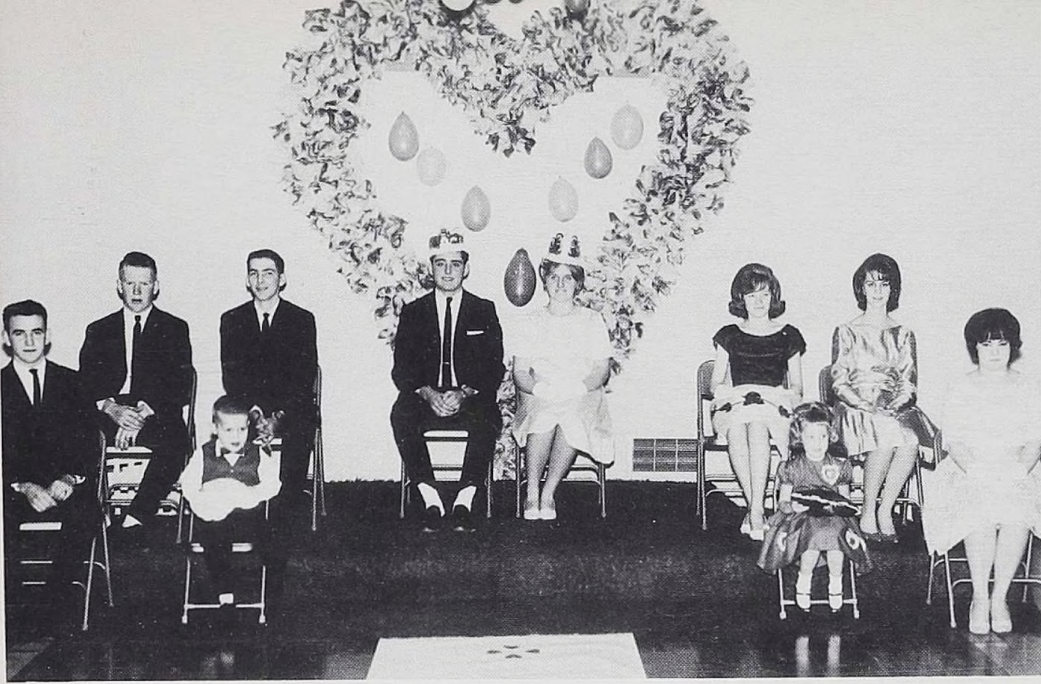

Above: Entering the reading division of the speech contest are Rose Ann Schultejans and Mary Jane Niehues (absent). Mary Jo Vondenkamp smiles approval of her partner in oral interpretation, Mariana Kohake, as she prepares to recite "The Creation" by James W. Johnson.

Right: Gloria Jean Huerter and Patricia Niehues share informative speeches and ideas with Shirley Glissman and Carol Rottinghaus, who are preparing original orations.

HEART HOP

February 14, was the date for the annual Heart Hop, a benefit dance sponsored by the junior class. Those in the royal court are King Linus Enneking, Queen Karen Wessel, Duke Kenneth Hermes, Duchess Connie Haverkamp, Lord James Heinen, Lady Mary Jo Vondenkamp, Count Gerald Rottinghaus, and Countess Connie Huerter.

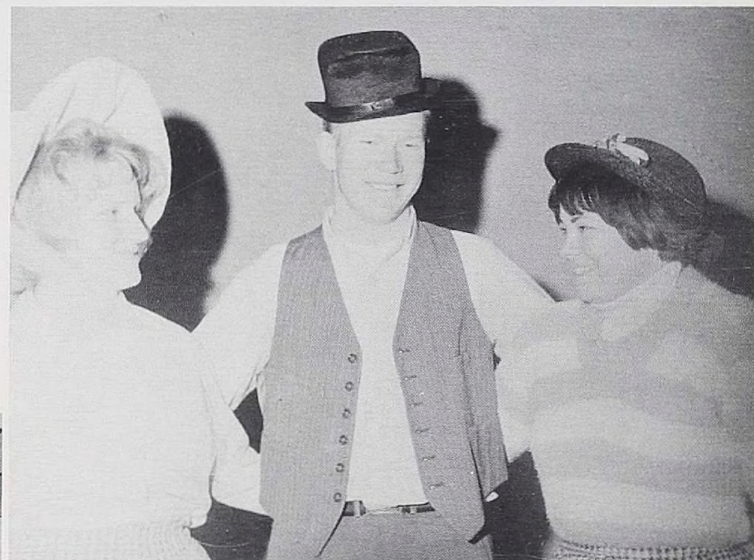

"MY FAIR LADY"

Carol Ann Rottinghaus portrays Eliza Doolittle in "My Fair Lady".

Professor Higgins (Linus Enneking) takes notes as Colonel Pickering (Gerald Rottinghaus) and Eliza Doolittle (Carol Ann Rottinghaus) exchange pleasantries.

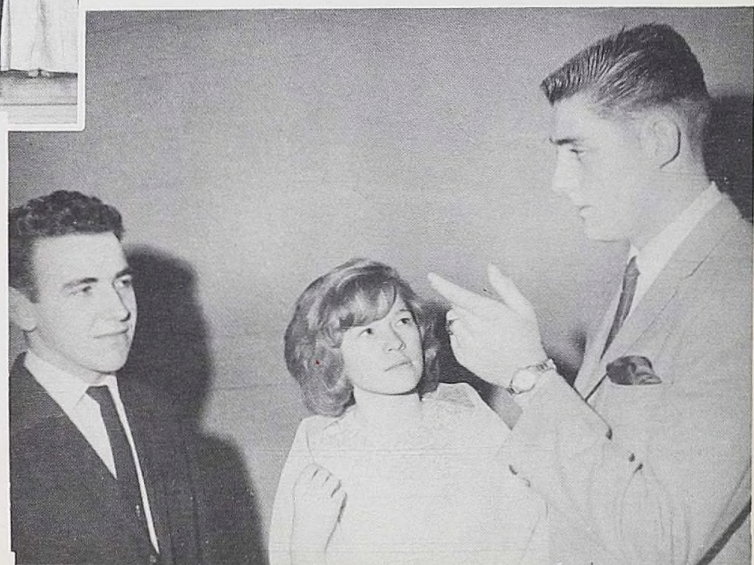

Mr. Doolittle (James Heinen) and two of his friends (Karen Wessel and Connie Huerter) celebrate in a London pub.

Joseph Hutfles, Lucy Enneking, Kenneth Hermes, Gerald Rottinghaus, Roger Hermes, Connie Jean Haverkamp, Bonita Niehues, Mary Jo Vondenkamp, Jim Huerter, John Kuhlman, Alice Hunninghake, Linus Enneking, Richard Heinen, and Patricia Niehues wait for the Ascot races to begin.

Professor Higgins (Linus Enneking) lectures his mother (Connie Haverkamp) and Colonel Pickering (Gerald Rottinghaus).
